WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION. WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CREBRATION.

Atthough there was no general puone demonstration in this city yesterday in honor (Washington's birthday, the day was peint (Washington's birthday). of Washington's birthday, the day was cele-brated by a number of reunions, barquets, and probably in a more erjoyable maner than for many years past.

The occasion was duly celebrated by Alxandia Washington Lodge No. 22, A. F. & A. M., ay a par quet and epeeches in accordand observance of Washington's birthby Alexandria Washington Lodge No. of Virginia and Liberty Lodge, of Bever-Mars -1731-1891." After the supper, on was greatly erjoyed by all of the brethes, the following toasts were an nounced and appropriately responded to, Wor. Bro. K. Kemper acting as "toast-

The brethren of Washington Lodge send cordial greeing from the festal board, heartily reciprocating the kindly sentiment: expressed in your telegram just received.

K. KEMPER. After appropriate closing remarks by Bro. Kemper, the brethern retired much pleased with the evening's entertainment.

The members of the Friendship Fire Company assembled at their engine house at S blook hast night and, preceded by the A!exandria Doum Corps, marched in a body to the Hotel F. eischman, where they held a union and bacquet in honor of the birthday of Washington, who was a member of the company and who presented the company with the first fire apparatus that was ever brought south of the Potomso river. On their way down the street the company was followed by a large crowd and the sidewake were througed with speciators to see the old veterans. As they passed the corner of King and St. Asaph streets the hose cartiage of the Columbia company, prettily decorated, was run down to that corner and the engine bell was rucg in honor of the old fremen. Or rescoing the hotel the mempers fi ed into the bacquet hall, where covwas soon occupied. The half was hand-simely decorated and the table prettily ornamented with flowers, &c. Soon the clatternikalise and forks was besid and the which consisted of oysters, turker, oncue, how, sa'ads, crems, fru'ts, coffee, &c, was heartily enjoyed Then the punch was served and the tossis were announced by Mayor Dawnham, pres ldent of the company, who made a short but appropriate . peech. The teasts and responses were as follows:

Every effort was put forth to make the affair a grand success, and this was accomplished, as all who were present will testify. The parlor was handsomely decorated, and in eight o'clock until 11 the time wes pleasantly spent in receiving guests and socisi intercourse. At 8:30 o'clo.k President Wm. A. Smoot delivered the address of welcome in behalf of the company, speaking in elequent terms of the company's standing, its growth, and its financial strength, it being recond to none and its apparatus and hose iqual to any in the State. Engineer Loudoun Campbell then in a few remarks invi ied the company to a sumptuous repast.
